This can be accessed on the travel screen through this code. With the new update, the assembly layout [edited] source] planning has been updated with minor and/or major changes to its design. The layout is divided into three different sections: the upper third, the middle third and the lower third. The third top [editing] source edit] the top third is where you put the most happiness and personality. These can greatly affect your overall train and your passenger happiness. With the new update, the painting itself has two ends cut. These are arranged as follows: on the left side shows a feature of your train, which are: the speed of your train, general weight, the ability to transport passengers and cargo; The two words, personality and happiness, written next to all the stats have now disappeared. Below is the vehicle's capacity, weight capacity, passenger and cargo and a special green arrow with a golden border code to denote the number of You currently have. When players access the assembly screen, the top third will always be presented. To collapse the top third, simply press the green box with a white arrow to close it, which is now located on the right. When players are customized, they simply click on the closing button, which is originally a green Done button, to return to the home screen. The middle third [editing] source] the middle third is the visual panel where most customization occurs. You can customize your train anytime you want, even if your train is traveling to another station. Nothing has been changed in this section. The third bottom [editing] source edit] shows the third bottom part of the car inventory that holds the cars you currently own, where most of the car statistics and information are given. With the new update, this section of the assembly has been dramatically changed with the addition of inventory of engines and cabooses, and replanning. When players click on a particular car, the car's address plate will be displayed with the name code and parchment on its right, which they can click to view the stats, and a gold star on the left side with a number written on it indicating the level of the car. On opposite sides, there are rows of code players can interact. On the left side are tabs to access cars, engines and cabooses stock. On the right side is the upgrade button and the sales button. The upgrade button, which is now a green arrow on a car inside the green box, allows you to upgrade your cars to have much better stats. When no upgrade is available, the button is smothered, and it will light up if there is an upgrade available. The sell buton, similar to the ignore button, which is the dollar mark in the gold box, allows you to sell any cars as you want to make room for your stock or ignore a duplicate one. There are 5 cars per page, and as in version 1.3.5, you can get up to 200 cars. To reach the maximum number of cars players will be asked to make space in stock. Each car shows the E at the top right of its box if you have at least one in your train at the time. The car level is now replaced by a gold star with a level written on it located under E. When tapping on certain cars, engines or cabooses, the green button appears equipped on the right side that allows players to automatically equip cars, engines or cabooses on the train, except when the train reaches its vehicle capacity. Customisation [editing] source edit] to add a train carriage to your train, you can simply choose a car and drag it over your train to the green component code to add it. When you attach the car to your train, the rewards you will offer appear either in green as they increase or red as dropped. Except for the change in weight abilities that will appear as: red as it increases the weight and green as it reduces weight, because too much weight can affect the speed of great speed. When it reaches full capacity (18 cars) New update), you can't add more cars but instead of replacing one existing with another. This makes customization a little harder for players as they have a wide range of cars, each with its advantages and disadvantages. With the new update, players can now customize the train engine and capulos on the train, where cabooses provide a bonus for cargo capacity, and engines provide a reward for passenger power and privileges for the train. Cost upgrade [edit ing] source] a car upgrade occurs when you have two cars of the same type and on the same level. When you have an upgrade, the assembly screen tab will have a red circle with an exclamation mark hovering over. When you enter the screen, your green arrow icon will flash with the corresponding number of upgrades and the cars in the bottom third will have the same arrow icon hovering over them. To upgrade a car, click on the car you want to upgrade and press the upgrade button at the far left of the lower half, which is now a green arrow on the car inside the green box. With the new update, it will lead to a screen where players can confirm the upgrade and move their own animation scning into each other's combination in one new car. When upgrading, it will add some cosmetic change to the car and an additional bonus for statistics. In order to fully update the car at the maximum level, you will need 6 cars in total: 4 M.1 cars and 2 M.2 cars. Below is a table showing a different state of upgrade cost for a particular type of car. The type of car upgrade to the basic cost level 2 500 level 3 5000 rare level 2500 level 3 25000 special level 2 5000 level 3 50.000 button sell [edit] edit source] selling function, replacing the job ignored, and is used primarily to sell a car if you want to make room for your inventory or ignore one unwanted duplicate. To sell a car, you can choose a car you want to sell and take advantage of the sales button. By doing so, it will pop-up notice confirming your sale. By selling a car, it will be removed from stock, but you will receive a specified amount of gold in return. You can sell any type of car at any level. Small bars &t: general discussions &t; thread details a lot of iterations I've tried to find a solution in the search forum but can only find functions about wanting duplicate cars... Well I have a problem the other way I have quite a lot and don't seem to have a way to sort through them, and they take up pages when trying to change my train. I saw there is something on the mobile phone you can combine but not on the computer. Is there somewhere I can sell it or anything?
